THE 'UNDER-DOG'*'God Save the Under-Dog',
He Says in Meeting
Thursday Night*RAPS THE SLANDERERS*Whispering Tongues Have Done Church More Harm
Than All Saloons

The "under-dog" had a warm friend and defender yesterday evening in "Big Jim" Kramer, speaking at the First Baptist church.

"The very epitome of religion is standing in the place of the 'under-dog,'" Kramer said. "If you're 'up against it' mentally, morally—if you look into the future and see no hope, then, I tell you, Jesus stands in your place and says 'I will help you. I will be your friend.' The gospel is not like the pole's theory for the survival of the fittest, but the gospel is for the unfittest. God can save the 'under-dog'."

Love for living.

There is nothing like sympathy and kindness to make the world happier, Kramer declared. "The greatest thing in the world is a friend. A friend is one that comes in when the rest of the world goes out. A true friend is like a ghost, much talked of but never seen. Don't keep your kisses for brows cold in death but show tenderness and love now."

"I always loved Barnabas because he went to the rescue of the 'under-dog.' God bless the 'under-dog.' We all make mistakes, but I am glad that God is not saving the world through angels, but through such laborers as we put forth. When a man falls, the thought comes to me, 'I wonder how many tried to save that man?' You never know the passions surging through the hearts of those who pass on the street, their troubles, their temptations, the sorrows that are more intense because they wear no weeds of mourning."

Attacks Slanderers.

The vials of Kramer's wrath were poured upon scandalizers and liars. "Scandal has done more to hurt the church of the living God than the saloon. A slanderer is the bottomless bottom of the bottomless pit. Back of a whispering tongue is always a black heart. The mouth of the slanderers is that one who says, 'If I could only tell all I know.' The only one worse than a slanderer is the one who listens. I have no use for these keyhole reporters. There are a thousand ways to tell a lie. You can lie without even opening your mouth, with a smile, a shrug, a wink or a glance."

Though admitting that people are handicapped, Kramer insisted that hope was theirs in Christian living. "Tonight I can hear the groan of sorrowing humanity. A great many people have been handicapped in different ways. Some of them have been handicapped since birth others from their own fault."

Kramer will speak at the Tulsa high school this morning. On Saturday night a parade will precede the meeting. Sunday morning will be "decision day" in the Sunday school of the Baptist church. At the morning church service Kramer will speak on "The Second Coming of Christ," and in the evening on "Don't Die on Third Base," a baseball sermon. On Sunday afternoon he will address a union service of all Baptist churches in the city now conducting revivals.

Gym Class Popular at Y. M. C. A.

The senior gymnasium class at the Y. M. C. A. is becoming very popular with young men. More than 40 were in attendance at last night's session. J. B. Miller, physical director, announced that the number would not be limited and that room would be made for all comers, even if it became necessary to divide the class.

Minstrels Go To Jenks.

Young people of the College Hill Community church who form "Duffenduck's Minstrels" will journey to Jenks this evening to present their "show" under the auspices of the Jenks athletic association, headed by W. Wilcox. Mr. Wilcox has promised a "full house."

"Y" Gets Massage Man.

The massage and bath department at the Y. M. C. A. will reopen today with an experienced man on the job. Mack Robinson, who has had ten years' experience in this work, will take charge and the usual line of baths, massages and rubs will be provided as heretofore.

TULSANS RETURN
FROM T. B. MEET*Work of All Associations
Now Centralized; Tul-

The name of the Oklahoma Tuberculosis association was changed to Tulsa Tuberculosis association at the annual meeting of the association Wednesday afternoon during the conference in Oklahoma City, according to Miss Bessie M. Richardson of the Tulsa Tuberculosis association. This was done because all the local associations in the state except those at Tulsa and Oklahoma City are engaged principally in public health work. Dr. O. H. McCarty was elected vice president and Doctor McCarty and Dr. A. W. Roth to the board of directors.

Recommendations adopted were that the work of public health nurses of the state be placed under the state public health department, that full time county health officers be appointed, that the staff of the state public health department be made adequate and that more sanatoria be established. These recommendations probably will be drafted into bills and submitted to the legislature.
